Formerly CEO
Denbury Resources

"The City of Plano has been an outstanding place for Denbury to grow. We are very pleased with the business friendly environment in Plano and particularly appreciated the strong support we received when we chose to relocate from our original Plano headquarters to a larger, single campus environment at the Campus at Legacy. With a wide range of housing options, great schools, well developed infrastructure, and easy access to highways and two major airports, the location of our headquarters has helped us attract and retain the top notch professionals we need to execute our future growth plans."
